I have been involved with GACAR for over 25 years and have a passion for the real estate profession. I previously served as President of GACAR, served on the board of directors and been involved with numerous committees. In addition, I taught our real estate ethics class enabling members to have a better understanding of the importance of our code of ethics. I feel that as the profession continually evolves and changes we need the perspective of people that have been in the business for an extended period and stay active supporting the needs of Realtors in our area. I am committed to making sure that the Association provides the tools, knowledge and support so that the next generation of Realtors can help people buy and sell real estate.
